Remarkable Escape.

Mrs. Mary A. Dailey, of Tunkhannock, Pa., was afflicted for six years with Asthma and Bronchitis, during which time the best physicians could give no relief. Her life was despaired of, until in last October she procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, when immediate relief was felt, and by continuing its use for a short time she was completely cured, gaining in flesh 50 pounds in a few months. Free trial bottles of this certain cure of all Throat and Lung diseases at Eagle Drug Store. Large bottles $1.00.

—JOHN Bach McMaster, the historian thus describes the American dude of 1800: "The pantaloons of a beau went up to his arm-pits; to get into them was a morning's work and, when in, to sit down was impossible. His hat was too small to contain his handkerchief, and was not expected to stay on his head. His hair was brushed from the crown of his head toward his forehead, and looked, as a satirist of that day truly said, as if he had been fighting an old fashioned hurricane backward. About his neck was a spotted linen handkerchief; the skirts of his green coat were cut away to a mathematical point behind."

Going Into Battle.

Said Captain George W. Stone yesterday: "I don't believe any man ever went into a battle without feeling frightened. I know I never did. I'll tell you when a man feels real badly. It's when he is forming his men into line for a big battle while a little skirmishing fire is kept up all the time.—Every minute or so some one, may be your best friend, standing right next to you, will shriek out, 'Oh, my God!' and fall back dead, and yet you cannot let your men fire, for the army must be drawn up first. There is plenty of time to think. You don't care to retaliate in any way. The next bullet may find your heart, and your children will be left fatherless. It is a moment that tries the bravest man, because he has to stand quietly and take it all. But when the order comes to fight and the excitement of the battle arises, fear passes away. You have something to do. You have a duty to perform at any cost. Bullets drive into the ground at your feet, sending up little clouds of dust; they whistle past your ears and maybe cut holes in your clothing. Shells and shrapnel kill your comrades and leave you living, and soon there comes a feeling that some good fortune has preserved you and will protect you, and the desire to do as much damage to the enemy alone fills your mind. That was my experience in the army, and I don't believe that the man lived who did not feel at the commencement of a fight that he would rather be somewhere else."—[Cincinnati Times Star of July 24th.]

—THE suppression of professional gambling houses in Louisville, Ky., has been followed by an extraordinary multiplication of poker games. The Courier-Journal says that there is hardly a thoroughfare in the city which does not boast of from one to a dozen poker games. In one room the money paid to the room amounted to nearly $25,000 per annum. In spite of the hard times the play at poker in Louisville is higher than ever before. A few nights since the junior member of a dry goods house lost $6000 to a drummer in the employ of the house. A wholesale hatter recently pulled down a "jack pot" which counted out $3600.—[Ex.]

—Culprit: "Yes, sah, I tuck de chicken. I was gwinter make some chicken pie, and I tuck de cook book and read de direcshuns, and hit says, 'Take de chicken.' Hit don't say buy one chicken, or borry one chicken, but hit says take one chicken. Hit don't say whose chicken ter take, so I juss tuck de first one I could lay my hands on. I follered direcshuns sah, in de book."—[Texas Siftings.]

—WORK in Russian fabric factories is by a new law forbidden between 8 o'clock at night and 5 in the morning. It was not out of regard for the employees, but with a view to lessening overproduction that this has been done.
